Lady Dahiman was the lavorite, Uncle Dave second choice, the field fetching nearly as much as the two lavorites. This was before the start, but after the first heat Lady Dahiman had the call, at long odds, over the field, which comprised all the others. Uncle Dave won the second heat very easily, and he then was taken for first choice, and sold heavily over all the others. He was in turn beaten badly and Lady Dahiman again came to the front and held the highest place in the betting to the end of the race, which she won.

FIRST Heat.—Lady Dahiman had the lead, Compeer second, Chester third, Nora M. fourth, Uncle Dave first. Sweetmeat sixth, Lady Sonberg seventh, Phil o'Neil, Jr., eighth. At the quarter pole, Sweetmeat led one length, in 29 seconds, Uncle Dave second, Lady Dahiman third, Chester fourth, Phil o'Neil, Jr., fifth, Compeer sixth, Nora M. seventh, Lady Sonberg eighth and acting very badly. At the half-mile pole Uncle Dave broke up and Lady Dahiman ed past the post half a length in 1.184, Uncle Dave second, two lengths ahead of Sweetmeat, Phil o'Neil, Jr., ionrth, Chester firth, Compeer sixth, Nora M. seventh, Lady Sonberg far behind. Lady Dahiman then trotted very rapidly and opened a gap of three lengths to the three-quarter pole, and, coming on nicely, won the heat by eight lengths, Sweetmeat second, a neck in front of Uncle Dave, Chester fourth, Phil o'Neil, Jr., filth, Compeer sixth, Nora M. seventh, Lady Sonberg distanced. Time, 2:33½.

Second Heat.—The horses had a very good star and went around the turn in a bunch. When they reached the quarter pole, which was passed in 41 Seconds, Lady Dahiman led two lengths, Sweetmeat second, Uncle Dave third, Phil o'Neil, Jr., fourth, Compeer fith, Chester faixh, Nora M. seventh. Linde Dave kept the lead to the end, Phil o'Neil, Jr., Chester fith, Compeer sixth, Nora M. seventh. Uncle Dave kept the lead to the end, Phil o'Neil, Jr., Chester fith, Compeer sixth, Nora M. seventh. Time of the heat, 2:35.

Third Heat—Aiter a few unsuccessful attempts the horses were sent away on pretty even terms, Lady Dahlman leading, Sweetmeat second, Phil O'Nell, Jr., third, Uncie Dave fourth, Nora M. fith, Compeer sixth, Chester seventh. At the quarter pole, Which was passed in 40½ seconds Lady Dahlman led a neck, Sweetmeat second, two lengths in iront of Chester, Compeer fourth. Phil O'Neil, Jr., fifth, Nora M. sixth, Uncle Dave seventh, the latter having broken up badly. Lady Dahlman trotted rapidly along the backstretch, and was four lengths in front at the haif-mile pole, in 1:18. Chester second. Sweetmeat third, Phil. O'Nell fourth, Compeer fifth, Nora M. sixth, Uncle Dave far behind. Lady Dahlman came away from the others, and trotting steadily won the heat by five lengths, Chester second. Phil. O'Nell, Jr., third, Compeer fourth, Nora M. fifth, Sweetmeat sixth, Uncle Dave outside where the flag ought to have been, but not distanced by the judges notwithstanding that he did not trot a step for a quarter of a mile. of a mile. Time of the neat, 2:35.

Fourth Heat.—Compeer was first away, Lady Dahlman second, Chester third, Uncie Dave fourth, Sweetmeat fiith, Phil O'Neil sixth, Norah M. seventh. At the quarter pole, which was passed in 41 seconds, Lady Dahlman led, Sweetmeat second, Norah M. third, Phil O'Neil, Jr., fourth, Chester fith, Compeer sixth, Uncle Dave seventh, Sweetmeat trotted rapidly along the backstretch, and, passing Lady Dahlman, was half a length ahead at the hall-mile pole in 1:29, Lady Dahlman, second, ten lengths shread of Phil O'Neil, Jr., who was third, half a length in front of Norah M., Uncle Dave fith, Compeer sixth, Chester seventh. Sweetmeat kept in front to the three-quarter pole, Lady Dahlman second, Chester third, Phil O'Neil, Jr., fourth, Compeer fith, Norah M. sixth, Uncle Dave seventh, Lady Dahlman closed gradually on Sweetmeat up the homestretch, and succeeded in winning the heat by a head, Sweetmeat second, six lengths in advance of Phil O'Neil, Jr., who was eight lengths ahead of Chester, Compeer fith, Norah M. sixth, Uncle Dave seventh. Time, 2:36, Uncle Dave won second money and Sweetmeat the third premium.

The judges took away the heat from Penooscot for running around the first turn. This he may have done in the crowd of horses, but it is quite true that he never made a skip nor break from the half-mile pole to the score, where he beat the others over eight lengths. Of course no time could be given to the one to whom the heat was given, and Penobscot was placed seventh, which, to say the least, was very severe punishment for a slight offence.

THE NATIONAL GAME.

A Magnificent Contest Between the Mutual and Philadelphia Clubs-The Quakers" Win.

The Union Grounds, Williamsburg, were yesterday afternoon the scene of a remarkably sharp and highly interesting game of base ball between the Mutuals and Philadelphias. From 1,000 to 1,200 people assembled within the enclosure to the struggle, while as many looked on from the surrounding housetons and through conmen were in fine trim and high spirits over their victory of the day previous, and thought they feit in condition to serve the Mutuals as they had done the Atlantics—whitewash them. But they reckoned without their host, for the New Yorkers meant business and did not propose to submit to the whitewashing process or to a defeat of any kind if good play-ing could avert it. Considerable time was lost in securing an umpire, no one present seeming willing to fill the onerous position. The matter was finally settled, however, and at a quarter to four o'clock play was "called." The first three innings resulted in blanks for the Philadelphia party, while the Mutuals, through good batting on their part and poor fielding by the visitors, secured four runs. The Mutual backers were jubiant about this time, and looked at the face of their pool cards with a vast deal of complacency. But the game was not yet decided; Philadelphia had something to say about the matter. The fourth inning was not docks with until the visitors had severed pool cards with a vast deal of complacency. But the game was not yet decided; Philadelphia had something to say about the matter. The fourth inning was not done with until the visitors had scored three runs and bianked the Muthals, leaving the totals at three to four, in favor of New York, instead of four to nothing as it was but a few minutes previous. Each club struggled hard in the next inning, but not a run was scored, and when the sixth inning opened it was still anybody's game. But now the Philadelphians began some effective work with the sick, and despired the sharp play of their opponents, worked two men around the circuit of the base, and took the lead by a score of five to four. The seventh inning laned to after the figures, and now it was that the Muthal backers began to realize the mutability of base ball affairs. But two innings were left unplayed, and if the Muthals lailed to improve the opportunity all was lost. They failed. The visitors railled splendidly at the bat, and would not "down" until they had augmented the score by three runs, bringing the total figures up to 8 to 5, the Muthals getting I run. The last inning opened amid the most intense excitement, but when the Philadelphia men were retared without a run things looked a little more Muthally hopeful. Three runs were wanted to tie, and four to win. Could the "Mutes" get them y was the question on all lips. The result showed they could not; but they would not and did not give up the light without a gaiant struggle. Hard hitting was the order, and it resulted in two men scoring runs with two others on bases and two hands out. Neison came to the plate and, as he is a good batter, the prospect seemed quite flattering for New York. But Neison nailed. He does sometimes. Watting for a good one, he hit mard and the ball sailed like a meteor through the air; but, alas for the Muthals, it dropped in York's hands just outside the foul line. Thus ended a well-contested game. The Muthals expressed considerable discussed the foul line. Thus ended a w

Defeat of the Essex Club.

On Hamburg Place Grounds, in Newark, N. J., yesterday, some 1,500 persons watched with interest a game of base ball between the Essex Club, of Newark, and the Champions, of Jersey City, which resulted in the deleat of the former by a score of 13 to 7. The Essex boys don't know what to make of their whipping. They were so sure of victory that some of their best players were allowed to be absent.

The Athletics and Atlantics at Phila delphia. PHILADELPHIA, June 2, 1874. The game to-day between the Athletics and Atlantics called out the largest crowd of the season. In the earlier history of the game of base ball the palm of victory was disputed alone by these two clubs, and the enthusiasm which prevailed was little less than that of a year ago.

The game opened in a manner calculated to develop this feeling, and every play upon both sides was welcomed with earnest applause. In the second inning the Athletics, owing to a must in the lett fleid and two bad throws of Parrow, scored ture runs; but the Atlantics, by good batting and a bad play by Anson, scored at the opening of the third also three, making the game still even.

At the close of the fifth inning the Athletics led by seven, a result secured by the general bad playing of the atlantic nine and the many passed balls and drops on the part of Farrow.

Beyond this point the interest was diminished, and the game terminated with the following CLEARED.

THE ORTHODOX FRIENDS.

The Temperance Question. The yearly meeting of the Orthodox Society of Friends continues. A business session, with the male and temale portions of the society in separate conference, was held at ten o'clock A. M. yester day and another in the atternoon. The business transacted was solely in connection with the internal organization of the society. Queries from several monthly and subordinate meetings were read and answered, and many reports received, including a report from the Quaker school at Springs, Cayuga county, N. Y., which showed an encouraging state of affairs. At half-past seven last evening a temperance meeting was held and largely attended. There were a number showed an encouraging state of affairs. At halfpast seven last evening a temperance meeting was heid and largely attended. There were a number of speakers, the two principal ones being David Tayben, of Onio, and John Pinnington. Friend
Tayben, of Onio, and John Pinnington. Friend
Tayben said:—'No other subject has a better right to enter the house of God than this great subject of temperance, and it is one that the Church must take hold of. It is an issue which will settle the deatiny of this country either for prosperity or ruin." He spoke of the horrible consequences of intemperance is those who indulged in it, and pointed it out as a direct source of great taxation. The annual retail sale of liquor in time country, according to the last report, was $700,000,000, or enough to build and equip all the railroads in the country. "And just in proportion," said Mr. Tayben, "as men spend money for articles having no real value does poverty increase." The Church should labor to suppress the cause of this crime, or it will labor in vain to convert the world. If fifteen years ago the churches of the land had taken a decided stand against slavery the war would have been prevented; but there is no use in talking of the past. The present curse of intemperance now demands the work of Christians. The Jews refused to take the thirty pleces of silver for which Judas betrayed his Lord, because it was 'blood money,' but $52,000,000 of what is just as much blood money annually swells the treasury of this, a Christian land. Blackstone says 'No law can be contrary to God's law,' and it is not infringing upon the rights of citizents to forbid the sale and the manufacturing of liquors. 'I can make

A MODEL Law,''

said the speaker, 'which will meet the emergency:—'Ee it enacted that no citizen of the State of New York shall manufacture, import or sell any spirituous, mait or distilled liquors; and be it further enacted that any person who shall manufacture, import or sell any spirituous, mait or distilled liquor shall be

In response to this sentiment several voices said, "So do !!" "Amen!" "I'en thousand did it in Ohio last year!" &c. Several other speakers followed, and all were intensely enthusiastic upon the subject of temperance. A public meeting of the society will be held this morning at ten.

THE ARCADIAN CLUB.

Closing Reception of the Season.

The members of this club gave their final recep-tion for the season last evening. It proved to be among the most, successful affairs that have yet taken place under the auspices of the Arcadian. and will be remembered not only for the large and and will be remembered not only for the large and brilliant gathering it attracted, but also for the thoroughly artistic surroundings by which it was marked. A programme of rare excellence, introducing some of the first amateur and professional artists, contributed largely to the uninterrupted chioyment of the assemblage. There were among other features some admirable recutations, several operatic selections, including solos and duets. What added considerable attraction to the reception was the exhibition of paintings, which in point of merit and variety of subjects, has rarely been surpassed at any similar gathering. The west, middle and east rooms were adorned with some rare works of art which falled not to excite the warmest commendation from the admiring visitors.

The evening was in every respect a decided success and a fitting termination to the season.

MURDEROUS AFFRAYS IN KENTUCKY.

CINCINNATI, June 2, 1874. A special despatch from Nicholasville, Ky., says this morning Harding H. Masters, a merchant of Nicholasville, went to all the saloon keepers town and requested them not sell liquor to his sister's husband.

All consented, except J. H. Soper, who used opprobrious epithets and assaulted Masters. At this point N. H. Soper, a brother of the saloon keeper, proprious epithets and assaulted Masters. At this point N. H. Soper, a brother of the saloon keeper, interfered, and a friend of Masters interposed, when a melie ensued, in which W. H. Soper, a son of the proprietor of the saloon, shot Masters in the back, the ball going through the right lung and killing him almost instantly. This occurred in the foremoon.

About noon another tragedy occurred only tweive miles south of Nicholasville, among the cliffs, on the banks of the Kentucky River, in which Granville Smith, aged sixty, killed his nephew, William Hugnes, and then shot himself. Both men were larmers, living near Danville, Hugnes failed recently, involving Smith in a loss of $20,000, nearly all the money he had. Smith had been disturbed in mind and threatened Hugnes' life. About noon Smith secreted himself among the cliffs on the road, ascending the hill on the south bank of the Kentucky River. Hughes passed about an hour later, in a carriage, with his wife. Smith shot Hughes twice with a revolver, one ball passing through the bowels, the other through the langs. Mrs. Hughes supported her husband and seized the reins of the horses, which ran away. Smith fired a shot at Mrs. Hughes, but it lodged in the seat of the bugsy. The carriage was overturned in a deep rayme. Late in the evening Hughes was not dead, though beyond recovery. Smith went to the woods and shot himself between the eyes in presence of a negro boy. At six o'clock to-night he was still living, but his wound
